Your Head Shot is Important You Are Important

The head shot is the one thing that all successful actors, models and professionals need to succeed.

Don't be misled by thinking a quick "selfie" shot at arms length on your mobile phone will suffice, or even a quick snap with your hobby DSLR, it will not! You need an image which shows you as the person you are. It's not a fashion or hair shot but must show you as you are at that moment in time. In our experience a quality head shot increases your chances of getting noticed.

Even professionals in business need good head shots for publicity and social media use. A good head shot means you stand out from the crowd and reinforces your brand values.

At PACK Shots we offer a professional West End quality images by photographers with proven combined experience of over 70 years. Lead photographer Ian Pack has worked in the still and moving image business since the early 1980s and has cast actors as a production manager/director, shot countless publicity images, head shots and portfolios during that time.

We offer a fixed price or bespoke service, either at our studio or on location - we even have a mobile studio solution. We provide associated services including character shoots, portfolios, show reel production, voice reels, repros and websites.

Call now to make a booking or discuss your requirements further, we're approachable and don't bite! Our studio is in Burgess Hill, Sunny Sussex, between Gatwick and Brighton with good transport links and free accessible parking on the door step.
